

MATH 2300*Spring 2010

Textbook: Calculus, by Hughes-Hallett, Gleason, McCallum, et. al, 5th edition (2009).

Calculator: A TI-83 or equivalent graphing calculator is required for this course.

COURSE GRADE

Your course grade will be calculated according to the following distribution.

Midterms	2/3, 3/3, 4/7 at 5:15-6:45pm	15% each
Final Exam	5/5 at 10:30am-1:00pm	20%
WeBWorK Problems		15%
Written Problems		10%
Recitation Worksheets		5%
In-class Participation		5%

Midterms: There will be 3 evening exams during the semester on February 3, March 3, and April 7 at 5:15pm. If you miss an exam and there is not a valid excuse, you will receive a zero for that exam grade. If you miss an exam and there is a valid excuse, we will compute your grade from the rest of the data that we have.

Final: There will be a comprehensive final exam given on May 5 at 10:30am. The final cannot be taken at an alternate time, so mark your calendar. You will not be excused from the final exam because of travel.

WeBWorK Problems: There will be problem sets assigned from each section of the text. The problems will be due regularly as the material is covered in lecture. See WeBWorK for specific due dates. Late homework will not be accepted for any reason.

Written Problems: There will be problem sets assigned from each section of the text. The problems will be collected weekly on Monday, with the exception of the first set that will be collected on Tuesday, due to the holiday. These written assignments will require clear and complete answers using full sentences and appropriate mathematical notation. Late homework will not be accepted for any reason. We will drop 2 homework assignments.

Recitation Worksheets: There will be a worksheet administered in recitation each week. Half of the grade on each worksheet will be based on in-class participation in groups. The other half of the grade will be based on correctness of results. If you are unable to attend recitation, you will be allowed to submit the worksheet with homework on the following Monday for half-credit only. We will drop 2 worksheets.

In-class Participation: At the discretion of your instructor, you may be asked to present problems at the board, work in groups on projects, or other activities during class. This component of your grade will reflect your effort in the participation of these events.

GATEWAY EXAM

There will be a short exam called a gateway exam that is graded as pass or fail. The exam will focus on techniques of integration and will be given in class on February 12. If a student does not pass the exam on this first attempt, then arrangements must be made with their instructor for a second attempt. If the student does not pass this gateway exam, their course grade will be lowered by one full letter grade.

SPECIAL NOTES:

If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to me a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact: 303-492-8671, Willard 322, and <http://www.Colorado.EDU/disabilityservices>.

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Students who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Faculty have the professional responsibility to treat all students with understanding, dignity and respect, to guide classroom discussion and to set reasonable limits on the manner in which they and their students express opinions. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, culture, religion, politics, sexual orientation, gender, gender variance, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student's legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the semester so that I may make appropriate changes to my records.

The University of Colorado at Boulder policy on Discrimination and Harassment, the University of Colorado policy on Sexual Harassment and the University of Colorado policy on Amorous Relationships apply to all students, staff and faculty. Any student, staff or faculty member who believes s/he has been the subject of discrimination or harassment based upon race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status should contact the Office of Discrimination and Harassment (ODH) at 303-492-2127 or the Office of Judicial Affairs at 303-492-5550.

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery, and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu; 303-725-2273). Students who are found to be in violation of the academic integrity policy will be subject to both academic sanctions from the faculty member and non-academic sanctions (including but not limited to university probation, suspension, or expulsion).
