

Introduction to Probability
Quiz 1

A president, treasurer and secretary, all different, are to be chosen from a club consisting of 10 people. How many different choices of officers are possible if:

1. A and B will serve together, or not at all.

2. C will serve only if he is president.