University of Colorado

Department of Mathematics

Problem of the Month

September 2010

Let f be a continuously differentiable function on $[0, \pi]$. Show that for some $x \in (0, \pi)$ we have $f'(x) - (f(x))^2 < 1$.