Meeting date, start time and duration:

Log of activities. Include times. Continue on back.

Example entry: We went over questions on old homework for 30 minutes. Then we each explained the theorems we had studied and answered questions from everyone else on their meanings. Sam had an especially interesting question that made us all realize we didn't remember the exact definition of continuous function, so we reviewed that again together.

Log of activities, continued:

Questions for your teacher:

What could your group do better next time?

Signatures of group members, indicating each was present and participated substantially at each meeting.
